Growing Gardens' mission is to cultivate community through regenerative urban agriculture. Our programs empower people of all ages, income levels, and abilities by connecting them with their local food system, each other, and the environment.

Our organization values the diverse skills and individuals that come together to create a thriving community and workplace. We are committed to the work we do, and bring our best selves each day, but we don't take ourselves too seriously, have fun, and enjoy the process of doing good in our community. We take care of each other and put people at the center of everything we do.

Spring Season Environmental Education Interns gain incredible hands-on experience teaching and learning in our programs as they develop essential skills for environmental education. Environmental Educators improve their teaching techniques through training, practice, reflection, and feedback. Spring Environmental Educators spend most of their time directly teaching in the Children's Peace Garden programs such as field trips and classroom visits.

Environmental Education Intern Duties

- Teach the following topics to school age groups: plant life cycles, planting and garden care, insects, pollination, honeybees, composting, animal husbandry, healthy eating and much more!
- Lead Field Trips and Classroom Visits in the Children's Peace Garden independently and with a co-teacher, with support and feedback from the Education staff.
- Attend intern trainings as assigned throughout the internship.
- Act as a responsible, positive role model for all youth participants.
- Assist Education staff with administration tasks.

Event Participation and Community Outreach

Environmental Education Interns will assist with marketing for programming and will educate and engage with community members during community outreach events.

Knowledge and Skills the Intern Will Develop:

- Teaching in a farm-based setting including effective teaching techniques, group management strategies, and age-appropriate teaching/learning.

- Strong background knowledge in the following topics: plant life cycles, planting and garden care, insects, pollination, honeybees, composting, animal husbandry, healthy eating and more.
- Effective communication strategies.
- Working effectively in a dynamic team environment.
- Evaluating programs through formal processes.
- Intern will receive training on Ages & Stages, Love and Logic, Working with Neurodivergent children, Group Management, and so much more!
